COLORED PEOPLE'S SKILL

FINE SPECIMENS OF ART

Entire Collection Placed on View at F. M. C. A. Building, and Preparation for Maritime Mission to Be Used in Displaying Expanse of Shipments from the Cotton States and International Exposition.

After months of labor, artistic and industrial skill, and the leadership of the most prominent and industrious men of the race, the colored population of Atlanta has collected the material for their exhibit at the F. M. C. A. Building. The Exhibition will be held at Atlanta beginning the first of April, and will continue until the close of the International Exposition.

The collection, in addition to the exceptional work of the F. M. C. A., contains over 10,000 specimens, and one contains specimens from the finest artists of the race, as well as specimens from the best artists of the race, painting in oil and water color, and a few in other mediums.

The Howard University exhibition is in two departments, the academic and industrial, and the former is in four subdivisions, mechanical, musical, general (art, science, and literature), and fine arts.

The Exhibition is intended to show the skill of the colored people in various branches of the arts, and the material is of the best quality and is of great value to the community.

FIRE INCIDENTS.

A fire occurred at the site of the old American National Bank building on West Peachtree Street, destroying a number of buildings.

Mrs. H. M. Lowery has contributed a wonderful oil painting of "The Red Cross Girl," which is shown at the Exhibition.

Mr. B. W. Williams has contributed a beautiful painting of "The Red Cross Girl," which is shown at the Exhibition.

Mrs. F. P. Moore has contributed a number of fine paintings, including a portrait of "The Red Cross Girl," and Mrs. Charles A. Mather has contributed a number of fine paintings, including a portrait of "The Red Cross Girl."

The material on display is the work of the most highly educated and industrious men of the race, as well as specimens from the finest artists of the race, painting in oil and water color, and a few in other mediums.

The material is of the best quality and is of great value to the community.
